In 2014, Mark Zuckerberg called this movie 'hurtful. Now, Sony is trolling Meta CEO

Source: TOI_Top_Stories

Sony Pictures has released an Instagram advertisement promoting The Social Reckoning, which revisits controversies regarding Facebook. The ad features actor Jeremy Strong portraying Mark Zuckerberg and delivers a pointed jab at Instagram's fact-checking practices. Mark Zuckerberg previously criticized The Social Network as hurtful due to its portrayal of his motivations for creating Facebook. The new film is a companion piece focusing on recent issues linked to the social media platform.