

Surrogate mother discovers baby's father is billionaire with 300 US-born children

Source: TOI_Top_Stories

A Chinese billionaire is allegedly engaging in American surrogacy to have more than a hundred children, raising significant ethical concerns. One surrogate discovered that her intended father had multiple surrogacy arrangements already in progress. This scenario underscores a troubling lack of transparency in the surrogacy sector, prompting vital discussions on surrogate rights and the necessity for clearer disclosure from intended parents.